Temple Israel's Mission

Temple Israel founded in 1914 is a Reform Congregation affiliated with the Union for Reform Judaism. Temple Israel is truly our House of Worship, Study and Gathering. For over a century, our synagogue embodies the ritual warmth and ceremonial beauty of our Jewish tradition while serving as the center for worship, life-cycle celebration and events, education, social justice, and activities and gatherings for all ages. We are an inclusive and actively engaged community. We welcome singles and couples, interfaith couples and families, LGBTQ Jews and those seeking to convert to Judaism. Temple Israel values the diversity of Jewish expression and community.

Racial Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (REDI) means recognizing the holiness of each individual and affirming and reflecting the actual diversity of Jewish people. The URJ is dedicated to representing individuals across the gender spectrum, including transgender, nonbinary, and gender-expansive individuals. For more information about the Reform Movement's stance on inclusivity and a quick guide to pronouns, please visit https://urj.org/what-we-do/audacious-hospitality/quick-guide-pronouns.

RABBI REMARKS

RABBI BATSHEVA APPEL,
INTERIM RABBI

WHAT IS IN A NAME?
Find out at Naming Shabbat on November 20th

My grandmother gave my father the middle name Bentley. It isn't a family name and it wasn't a common name 90 years ago on the Lower East Side of New York. She didn't choose the name because of the meaning or because it was the name of a great Roman orator, as my uncle was once told. My grandmother chose the name because of the way that it sounded. She remembered it from when she was younger, and there was a mother who would yell: "Bentley, Bentley, come home!" I like to think Bentley's mother named her child because of the possibility and promise wrapped up in the name, the chance to be a real American with a real American name. When I ask someone for their Jewish or covenantal name, ,the Jewish community, I receive many different answers. Many people can tell me their names and for whom they were named. Some people don't remember their Jewish names. Some people don't like their Jewish names. Others never received a Jewish name. On Naming Shabbat, Friday, November 20th, we will have a ceremony during the service for those who would like to affirm or change their Jewish name. If this is something that you are interested in doing, please call the office or email me at rabbiappel@templetulsa.com soon so that we can meet and talk about names, particularly what name you want to choose at this time in your life.

CONGREGATION SPOTLIGHT: Waxman Family

On a rainy Saturday in September, family and friends joined the Waxman Family to support Team "Walk a Mile with Miles" at the 2026 Tulsa St. Jude Walk. Barbara Waxman is a board member, and Zac Waxman is co-chair of our Religious Education Committee & serves on the Rabbinical Search Committee. Their youngest son, Miles, is now in fourth grade. He completed cancer treatment through Tulsa's St. Jude affiliate in May 2024 and is doing great. This is the second year the Waxman family has participated in the walk, giving back to the organization that supported them during Miles' treatment.

This year, they're aiming to raise $5,000 for St. Jude. Daily operating costs for St. Jude averages $1.7 million, with 82% of all dollars received going toward patient care, research, and future needs.

WAY TO GO, MILES!

BOARD UPDATE

MINDY ROE GALOOB,
BOARD PRESIDENT

I hope everyone had a wonderful 5787/High Holy Day season. A special thank you to our amazing clergy and staff team for their work to make all those events possible. Below is an expert from my speech from our Yom Kippur service.

Octavia Butler writes, "All that you touch, you change. All that you change changes you. The only lasting truth is change." Those words feel especially relevant as I begin my first High Holy Days as president of Temple Israel and watch our new building take shape.

Change is constant. A year brings marriages, births, growing children, losses, new jobs, new homes, joys, and challenges. We return each Yom Kippur to familiar prayers and traditions, but we are never quite the same people we were the year before.

Temple Israel's new home represents years of dreaming, planning, debate, generosity, and hard work. Many people helped bring it to life, including leaders who are no longer here to see it. I am grateful to past presidents, our leadership, and everyone who has contributed time, ideas, resources, and patience—especially those whose gifts to the NextDor campaign will help families build traditions here.

As president, I am learning that the role is really one of caretaker. We inherit the work, decisions, and challenges of those before us; for a while, it is our turn to care for the congregation.

That responsibility belongs to all of us. Generations built this Jewish community in Tulsa, and now we must decide what to preserve, what to change, and what to pass on.

Our buildings hold memories of worship, learning, celebration, sorrow, friendship, and mutual care. Moving to a new home does not mean leaving those memories behind. It gives us a chance to ask what we want Temple Israel to become: whom we will welcome, what new possibilities we will create, and how we can serve both our congregation and the wider Tulsa community.

We cannot know exactly what the coming year will bring, or control every change. But we can choose how we respond. This is our turn to welcome others, nurture resilience, carry forward what we inherited, and build something stronger for people we may never meet.

The changes we make will change us, too. Someday, others will inherit what we leave behind. For now, it is our turn to take care.

NEXTDOR: BREAKING NEW GROUND

NEXTDOOR LEADERSHIP TEAM

Every week, our new Temple Israel home looks a little more like the building we have imagined together. Construction continues to move forward on schedule. Recent developments include: weatherproofing, roofing, electrical panels and fire suppression, main valve in place and heat exchangers have been installed. We are still targeting substantial completion by spring 2027.

But a completed building is not quite the same thing as an open Temple. There is still plenty of work ahead to transform the building into our new home. The project also remains on solid financial footing. Construction costs are tracking within 1.3% of the budget. Our fundraising campaign has now reached over $13,1 MILLION in donations from over 150 donors. That extraordinary generosity is turning our shared vision into reality!

As construction advances, we're increasingly focused on what comes next including testing building systems, coordinating the move, planning our first programs and services and preparing a dedication worthy of this remarkable moment in Temple Israel's long history. Each passing week brings us closer to the day we will gather together in our new Temple.

THANK YOU FOR MAKING OUR NEW BUILDING POSSIBLE!

RABBINIC SEARCH

GRANT BUMGARNER,
RABBINIC SEARCH COMMITTEE CHAIR

Our committee is pleased to share that we have begun receiving applications and interviewing candidates for the Senior Rabbi position. This winter, we hope to welcome finalist candidates to Tulsa for in-person visits. We may also have the opportunity to visit candidates in their home congregations, where we can see them in action and better understand their leadership in context. I continue to be amazed at the care and dedication our search committee members bring to this work. They are asking thoughtful questions and conducting extensive research on each candidate to help ensure we find the right person to lead Temple Israel into its next chapter.

This is an exciting moment for Temple Israel. Over the next year, God willing, we will welcome a new rabbi to our new building. Change can feel uncertain, but it also offers an opportunity to come together around a shared vision.

For more than a century, Temple Israel has been a cornerstone of Jewish life in Tulsa—l'dor v'dor, from generation to generation. Now we have the privilege of honoring that legacy while writing the next chapter of our story. If you have questions or feedback about the rabbinic search, please reach out to us at search@templetulsa.com.

WELCOMING THE SEASON OF LIGHTS

LESLEY BUMGARNER,
DIRECTOR OF CONGREGATIONAL LIFE

As Hanukkah approaches we think about kindling light and consider the many ways we can create light from darkness. Our annual traditions, both in our homes and gathered as a Temple Family, allow us to share light and all that it represents.

Join us on Friday, December 4 at 6:00 p.m. for a Zamru L'Shabbat Musical Hanukkah Service. Our band, Elijah's Minor Prophets, will play familiar Hanukkah tunes for us to enjoy. After the service, stay for a delicious Hanukkah dinner catered by Orr. You are invited to bring your Hanukkiahs from home so that we can kindle the lights together.

On Sunday, December 6th at 4:30 p.m., join us to light our huge outdoor Hanukkiah. Jenny Labow will lead us in song, and we will enjoy a bonfire and make s'mores. Finally, Hanukkah will conclude on Friday, December 11th with a Shabbat service beginning at 6:00 PM. You are invited to arrive early at 5:30 to enjoy our festive pre-oneg snacks and drinks before the service.

There are many ways to add light to the darkness, both literal and metaphorical. Gathering with friends, sharing a smile or supportive words, and lighting Hanukkah candles are special ways to kindle light and warmth. We hope to see you at these Temple Israel Hanukkah gatherings.

BROTHERHOOD

BROTHERHOOD CO-PRESIDENTS

From both of us, we hope everyone is having a sweet and happy New Year so far. As the High Holy Days settle behind us and that much-deserved cooler weather finally rolls into Tulsa, the Brotherhood is just getting warmed up — and we've got a couple of events on the calendar we can't wait to share with you.

First up, our ever-popular After Hours returns on Monday, November 16th at 6:00 p.m. This time we'll be gathering at El Patron on 51st & Harvard. If you've been to one of these, you already know the draw: good food, easy conversation, and the kind of relaxed evening that reminds you how much fun this group is. These nights are always better with a full table, so plan to bring a friend, a spouse, or a neighbor who's been meaning to get involved.

Then, on Sunday, December 13th at 9:30 a.m., we'll gather for our second Brotherhood Breakfast of the calendar year. Come hungry and come ready to visit, because alongside the food and the good company we're pleased to welcome our guest speaker, Phil Goldfarb, President of the Jewish Genealogy Society of Tulsa. He's sure to have a fascinating topic for us — it's one of our favorite mornings of the year, and we'd love to see the room packed.

Both of these events are what the Brotherhood is all about: showing up for one another, making newcomers feel at home, and building the kind of fellowship that carries our whole congregation forward. Whether you're a longtime regular or you've never made it to an event, consider this your personal invitation. There's always a seat for you at the table. Wishing you and your families a joyful, healthy, and sweet year ahead. We'll see you in November and December!

EDUCATION

KELSEY HOLDER,
DIRECTOR OF EDUCATION

This year, our High Holy Days education, observance, and celebration blended tradition, service, and modern celebration. In addition to studying the traditions of Rosh HaShanah and Yom Kippur, our Shorashim students completed a "mini-service project," helping assemble the donation bags for our High Holidays Food Drive.
This hands-on project gave us the opportunity to see tzedakah in action, helping our Social Justice Committee with our annual congregational outreach to our neighbors in need.

Working with Lesley Bumgarner, our Director of Congregational Life, we took two holiday traditions in a different direction this year. We combined our Birthday Party for the World and our Tashlich observance and relocated to LaFortune Park, right by the creek and adjacent to the greens and playgrounds of the park. Our Shorashim families, students, and teen assistants joined our community of congregants for a meaningful service and a chance to spend time celebrating a new year.

In a new twist on Sukkot, Lesley helped up pair our first TJ's (Temple Juniors, our Shorashim youth group) with "Truckin' to the Sukkah." Under our community sukkah set up on the JFT campus this year, we enjoyed tasty bites from "Cheese Me" and sweet treats from "Bailey's Ice Cream," two local food trucks that proved to be a huge hit. While playing yard games and decorating the sukkah, our students helped welcome friends and guests alike, joining our traditional celebration of harvest and hospitality with a modern, food festival vibe.
